Local Entrepreneur Lula Goodall Graduates from Prestigious Goldman Sachs Program

Houston, TX (December 15, 2023) – Lula Goodall, owner of Zuhri Care, a home healthcare agency serving the Houston area, recently graduated from the Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses program held at Houston Community College. Goodall was part of cohort 37, which included several other Houston small business owners.

The intensive 12-week program provides entrepreneurs with practical business education, support services, and access to capital to grow their businesses. Participants study modules on financial statements, negotiations, marketing, and more.

“I learned so much and met so many great people in this program,” said Goodall. “Although it was intense and I often thought about quitting, I persevered. I’m a better entrepreneur because of it. I recommend it to any small business owner.”

Goodall plans to use the knowledge, resources, and connections gained from the program to expand Zuhri Care's services and reach more clients needing in-home care.
